GERMAN LINES BREAK UNDER HEAVY BLOWS ALLIES RUSHING FORWARD IN PURSUIT OF HUNS

THE SUPPOSEDLY IMPENETRABLE HINDENBURG LINE IS CROSSED BY THE VICTORIOUS BRITISH AND UTTER DEMORALIZATION SEEMS TO HAVE GRIPPED THE TEUTON ARMIES AS THEY STRUGGLE TO ELUDE THE ENCIRCLING ARMIES OF GENERAL FOCH PRESSING HARD NOW AT EVERY POINT.

GERMANS MAY BE FORCED TO RHINE BEFORE THEY CAN GATHER SHATTERED LINES FOR FINAL STAND AGAINST FREEDOM'S ARMIES

Great German Base, Bapaume, is Now in a No-Man's-Land. All Resistance Which Germans Are Able to Summon With Fresh Reserves is Smashed by the British and French as Advance Continues.

One Hundred and Twelve Thousand Prisoners Taken by Allies. Thirty Villages Captured in Drives. Vast Quantities of Stores and Ammunition Fall Into Possession of Allies as Huns Fall Back in Hurried Disorder Unable Even to Destroy Their Depots and Dumps.

(By The War Editor of The Associated Press)

German forces in southern Picardy are retreating over a wide front. After the capture of Roye by the French yesterday the German front has crumbled. The lines which have held back the French and British for two weeks have given way and today's official reports show the French on a line less than three miles west of the Somme river and canal.

THIRTY VILLAGES CAPTURED

Thirty villages have been captured by the French in the advance started early Tuesday morning. Chaulnes, the center of the German line between Roye and the Somme river, has been captured and many other vital points have been taken from the retreating enemy.

While the French have been smashing the enemy's fronts along the Chaulnes-Roye line, the British have swung forward in the sector east of Arras.

BRITISH PUSH ON

North of the Arras-Cambrai road they have reached the outskirts of the towns of Haucourt, Remy and Boiry-Notre-Dame, about a mile east of the positions where they were known to be yesterday and well east of the Hindenburg line.

South of the Somme the British have taken Foucaucourt, while north of the river they have gained nearly all of Trones Wood.

FOUR MILE ADVANCE

In the Flanders area the British have advanced their lines over a front of four miles astride the Neuf Berquin road.

Every means known to modern warfare are being used by the enemy to stay the onrush of the British and French on the 57-mile front, but the allies machine moves on. Heavy reinforcements have been thrown into the fray by the Germans, mostly in the center around Bapaume. The one desire of the enemy appears to be to find a line where they can stand long enough to make an orderly retirement.

ENEMY GIVEN NO REST

Marshal Foch is giving the enemy no rest. There is no let up in the allied pressure and each day the active fighting front is being extended north and south. Each extension is marked by further large gains adding to the peril of the enemy's center, which fights desperately, to prevent the British from breaking through.

On the north, astride the Scarpe river, the British have broken through the Hindenburg line on a front of ten miles or more and continue their push after their advance of three miles Tuesday.

BAPAUME IN NO MAN'S LAND

Bapaume is now a part of no man's land, but the Germans still cling to every foot as long as possible.

North and south of Bapaume the British have made only slight progress against the enemy defense. Great confusion is reported behind the German lines on this sector and the enemy is digging a trench line to the east of Bapaume.

SMASHING ALL RESISTANCE

North and south of the Somme the British press onward toward Peronne. Dompiers, south of the river and six miles west of Peronne has fallen to the British. French troops have moved eastward in the Roye sector an average of nearly two miles on a front of 12 1/2 miles.

OLLIE M. JAMES ANSWERS CALL OF DEATH ANGEL

Kentucky Senator Died in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, this Morning.

Dominant Figure in Kentucky Politics and Great National Leader.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Baltimore, August 28.—Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, died at Johns Hopkins Hospital today at 6:45 o'clock of an acute affection of the kidneys.

Ollie M. James, one of the leaders of the Democratic party and long a dominant figure in Kentucky politics, served five consecutive terms as a member of Congress from the First Kentucky district, was elected United States Senator by the General Assembly in 1912, and was re-nominated for that office by a large vote at the state-wide primary on August 3, last.

Born in Crittenden county, Kentucky, July 27, 1871, and educated in public and academic schools of that section, James took an early interest in politics and at the close of a legislative session, during which he served as page, he began the study of law in the office of his father, Judge L. H. James, and was admitted to the bar a full year before he reached his majority.

During the next four years he leaped into political prominence in the western section of the state, and he was not yet 25 when he was selected as a delegate to the Democratic National convention at Chicago in 1896 which nominated William Jennings Bryan for the presidency.

Out of the memorable campaign that followed the Chicago convention grew a close friendship between James and Mr. Bryan that continued through life, despite the fact that their views were not always in accord.

It was his ringing speeches in defense of the Chicago platform that first attracted nation-wide attention to the young Kentuckian and placed him at a single bound into the inner councils of the Democratic party of his home state.

"Big Ollie," as James was familiarly known to thousands, attended five Democratic national conventions as a delegate from Kentucky subsequent to the Chicago convention and served as permanent chairman of the conventions of 1912 and 1916 which nominated President Wilson.

It was on his return from Patterson, N. J., where he attended the funeral of Senator William Hughes, that Senator James became ill early in February. He was bed-ridden with tonsillitis for two weeks, but spent his time preparing an address upholding the administration's conduct of the war, which he delivered February 14, against advice of physicians.

Three days later he was forced to his bed by acute inflammation of the kidneys, but he was up and attending to his business again three weeks later. Finally his condition became such that he was sent to Johns Hopkins where he underwent several minor operations. Later blood transfusion was attempted in the battle to save his life.

U. S. TROOPERS INFLECT LOSSES ON MEXICANS

Conferences Between American and Mexican Officials Expected to Result in Agreement.

Americans Slain by Mexican Soldiers in Border Fight.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Nogales, Arizona, August 28.—An agreement by which further trouble would be avoided was expected to result today from conferences between American and Mexican officials summoned here following fighting at the international line yesterday between American soldiers and Mexicans, in which three Americans were killed and 28 wounded.

The Mexican casualties in the fighting are estimated at from 150 to 200.

The fighting began late yesterday when a Mexican attempted to cross into the United States. A. A. Barber, a United States Customs guard twice ordered the Mexican to halt and when he failed to comply Barber drew his pistol but did not fire.

Two Mexican customs guards resisted his interference and opened fire. Their bullets missed Barber but struck Corporal Barney Lotz in charge of the American guards. Lotz was shot through the arm and the lungs and ran to a telephone office on the American side shouting for assistance. He fell unconscious at the door and was removed to a hospital where he died.

As the Mexican bullets struck Lotz, Barber returned the fire and felled the Mexican guard who wounded the corporal. The firing then became general. American soldiers on patrol returned the fire and an appeal for reinforcements was sent to Camp Little. Four companies of infantry and two troops of negro cavalry responded.

The first American military unit to cross the line was a troop of negro cavalry under command of Captain Hungerford. The captain was killed at the head of his command.

FRENCH SWEEPING FORWARD CROSS THE AILETTE RIVER. CHAVIGNY FALLS TO ADVANCING FRENCH ARMIES AND CAPTURE OF NOYON IS NOW ONLY A MATTER OF HOURS. RETREAT OF THE HUNS IN THE SOMME SECTOR HAS BECOME A ROUT. PURSUING ALLIES CAPTURE THOUSANDS OF PRISONERS AND INFLICT HEAVY LOSSES ON ENEMY.

HUN RETREAT IS A ROUT

PARIS, August 28.—(Associated Press Cable)—The German retreat on the Somme field has become precipitate. The French are inflicting heavy losses on the fleeing Germans.

FRENCH CROSS THE AILETTE

PARIS, August 28, 4:40 p. m.—(Associated Press Cable)—French troops began crossing the Ailette river today, it was announced here this afternoon.

The French also have reoccupied points two miles southwest of Noyon, according to unofficial reports which say the French are approaching Noyon which probably is, or soon will be, in their possession.

TANKS AND AIRPLANES

Allied artillery, tanks and airplanes are giving the infantry valiant help and are inflicting heavy losses on the Germans. The number of prisoners has been increased still further and great quantities of war material have been taken.

HEAVY ARTILLERY FIRE ON

From Roye to the Oise and thence to the Aisne, lively artillery duels are in progress. Along the Vesle the situation has quieted down again after the successful American thrust at Bazoches and the German repulse north of Fismes.

CHAVIGNY FALLS TO FRENCH

LONDON, August 28, 4:45 p. m.—(Associated Press Cable)—French troops have occupied positions on the north side of the Oise about one mile from Noyon, have captured Chavigny three miles north of Soissons, and advanced to a depth of six miles on a wide front, according to reports reaching here late today.

CANADIANS BAG 2,000 PRISONERS

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, August 28.—(Associated Press Cable)—Canadian troops in their advance astride the Scarpe river yesterday captured more than 2,000 Germans.

ALLIES TAKE 112,000 PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, August 28.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The number of prisoners taken by the allies since July 1st, has passed the 112,000 mark, General March announced today.

In the same time the allies have taken from the Germans 1300 cannon of the field gun calibre and larger.

"BETWEEN THE PINCERS"

The French advance noted in this morning's official statement from Paris, General March pointed out, marks the creation of another deep salient in the enemy lines which is now being put "between the pincers." The French have reached Nesle and are within two miles of the Somme at this point.

Since last Saturday the British, as a result of their persistent advance, have overrun the Hindenburg line for a distance of one mile on a front of three miles.

Latest dispatches to the Department, he said, do not indicate any cessation in the allied pressure. The British apparently are and will continue their progress on the Flanders front.

WILL OBSERVE THE "GASLESS SUNDAYS"

Streets and Highways Are Expected to Be Denuded of Motor Vehicles All Day Sunday—Persons Will, With Few Exceptions, Be Violators of Order.

While there is some protest among part of the automobile owners regarding Garfield's new order which prohibits the use of automobiles on Sunday, in order to conserve the gasoline supply, there is every indication that the orders will be followed to the letter by virtually everyone.

Local dealers will comply with the order to the letter, and on Sundays sell no gasoline to be used for pleasure riding.

How long the order will last is not known, but it is expected that a few Sundays at most will witness the lifting of the order, and in the meantime those who have little time for using their automobiles outside of Sundays, expect to see the order modified so that those who are not in the habit of using their cars for pleasure during week days may enjoy some of the gasoline that heretofore has been devoted to promiscuous joy riding on week days, or that limited amounts will be allotted to each car per week.

GARAGES WILL CLOSE

Compliance with the order will mean that virtually no automobiles will be seen on the streets or highways beginning next Sunday, and that those who do appear, unless they are within the restrictions noted where business requires it, will be openly violating the orders of the U. S. Fuel Administration.

Agreement has been made among the local garages that they will close all day on Sundays during the period the order remains in effect.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Aren't there thirty women in all Fayette county who are willing to give some of their time to the making of Surgical Dressings?

At least that number is badly needed at the Surgical Dressing work shop in the Y. M. C. A. Annex Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, beginning the first week of September. The call is urgent.

Remember women how many of our own boys are going to be in the hospitals "overseas" and how many will need these very dressings. You wouldn't want them to have their wounds bound up with sawdust as were those of many soldiers after the battle of the Marne.

The monthly quota assigned Fayette county is very large—a thousand and a thousand pads, besides a thousand face masks. There has been a shortage in materials, but a new consignment is expected and the work must be pushed rapidly if it is done.

The class has been working on face masks for Camp Sherman. An officer came up from the camp last Tuesday and made a personal appeal for these masks, which are used in connection with the examinations of the selective draft as well as in the operating room. The officer brought up 200 yards of gauze and the women made fifty of these masks in time for him to take back with him. The class has completed 350 face masks and has twice that many yet to make.

Miss Gardner, chairman of the Surgical Dressings, will welcome and instruct any women willing to assist in this work.

Appeal From The

Red Cross Work Shop

The same urgent need of workers is felt in the Red Cross work shop. Repeated requests for help fail to bring response and Mrs. Eva J. Penn, chairman, and her faithful helpers are becoming discouraged, so important is the work and so few the workers.

Especially are women needed on Tuesdays and Fridays. Unless some come to the rescue Fayette county's quota will be woefully short.

DELINQUENT SENT TO CAMP SHERMAN

James Govers, colored, who failed to appear for entrainment for Camp Sherman when notified to do so a short time ago, was picked up by Federal agents and escorted to Camp Sherman where he was promptly inducted into military service.

LEGAL RULES FOR THE TROOPS

Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., August 28.—Copies of a booklet, entitled "Legal Rules for Guidance of Soldiers and Sailors," are to be distributed to men at Camp Sherman through the joint efforts of the Lake Division of the Red Cross and the Ohio Branch, Council of National Defense.

Distribution of the books will be in the hands of C. G. Browne, Red Cross associate field director in charge of home service.

The booklet was originally prepared by the Council of National Defense and the special legal sub-committee of the Ohio Branch. Purposes and provisions of the soldiers and sailors civil relief act, war risk insurance law, wills, power of attorney and guardianship are among subjects explained.

TO BUILD ENGINE

GARABED G. GARABEDIAN
Garabed G. Garabedian, inventor of "garabed," has written President Wilson that in two months he would set up an engine which, he says, would demonstrate his theory, recently rejected by a scientific commission, that enough free energy could be developed to operate battleships, airplanes and other craft.

SUNDAY AUTOMOBILING IS STOPPED BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, August 28.—The Fuel Administration has called upon the public in states east of the Mississippi River to cease the using of all classes of automobiles, with a few named exceptions, motorcycles and motor boats on Sundays until further notice, as a gasoline conservation measure.

Only voluntary compliance with the letter and spirit of the request will prevent the issuance of a mandatory order prohibiting the use of gasoline on Sundays, it was declared at the Fuel Administration.

Automobiles for hire, including taxicabs, are included in the curtailment program.

Motor vehicles to which the restrictions do not apply were announced as:

Tractors and motor trucks employed in actual transportation of freight; vehicles of physicians, used in performance of professional duties; ambulances, fire apparatus, police patrol wagons, undertakers' wagons and conveyances used for funerals; railway equipment using gasoline; repair outfits employed by telephone and public service companies; motor vehicles on errands of necessity in rural communities where transportation by steam or electricity is not available.

The action was taken by the Fuel Administration, it was stated, to meet a threatened shortage of gasoline for shipment overseas, created by increased domestic demands and extensive military operations in France.

Changes

Of course the world war is certain to bring about marked changes in governmental conditions and social conditions the whole world around. Not a nation nor a people on the face of the earth will fail to start again on a peace basis with the same order of things obtaining before the war or during the war.

In some nations the changes in governmental and social conditions are certain to be revolutionary—it must be, else the war will have been fought in vain and all the heroic sacrifices in life and treasure will have been for naught.

In the great democracies of the world, the United States, France and Great Britain, the changes after the war will not be so radical as present conditions seem to indicate.

Nearly all of the radical and necessary assumption of control over private property, will automatically disappear at the close of the war. The centralization so necessary now will dissolve when the crisis is past.

Many radicals and extremists see in the present governmental control of utilities and supplies a permanent establishment to endure after the war is ended. There may be some of the commercial changes, which the war has taught us can be and should be made, that may be adopted by the people and written into our governmental codes, but those changes, in a democracy like ours, must be made by the people in their own proper way and under normal conditions. Changes made, properly, under the necessity of war times are not likely to remain a part of the permanent government without discussion or adoption by the people.

Many "hobby" riders who now see their pet theories part and parcel of the great free government for all time are riding to a fall.

We will have changes when peace comes—many of them—but many of the ultra radical will disappear with the dawn of peace.

How It Works

The safe and swift transportation of one million and one hundred thousand American troops in a period of thirty days is one of the big accomplishments of the railroads of America disclosed in latest reports, and that, too, without disturbing the tremendous commerce of this nation.

That in itself is a complete refutation of any assertion that government control of railroads, during war times, is not proving satisfactory.

Speedy troop and crop movement was the main purpose of the assumption of control of railroads by the government, and that the main purpose has been attained seems to admit of no denial.

They Wonder Why

With true Teutonic lack of comprehension due to a refusal to accept facts as they exist and from the facts draw their own conclusion, the masses of the German people seem unable to understand why they have the enmity of almost every nation on earth, save only Turkey.

The masses of the German people have so long submitted blindly to domination by the brutal war lords and permitted them to do their thinking for them that, really, they seem to have become incapable of thinking for themselves.

Germany has lost the friendship of every civilized nation on the globe because her rulers have never made any attempt to gain and hold the love and the respect of any nation nor any people—not even the German people.

The war lords, by a system of vicious propaganda which has involved the home, the church, the Sunday school and the common schools, have crushed out all the humane instincts of the German people, established a rule of force, a policy of blood and iron, fear and hate, holding their allies by chains of slavery and the sword of war and conquest.

If the German people could, and would, read, understandingly, the history of their nation and face the facts of this war squarely and honestly, they would cease to wonder why Germany stands today disgraced and dishonored without a friend among the nations of the earth and, understanding, they would cease to indulge in vain regrets and inaugurate reforms at home which would bring a change in conditions, freedom to the German people and a place in the sun of freedom.

Poetry For Today

THE TANK BRIGADE

(Shade of Tennyson, forgive!)
 Half a league, half a league,
 Half a league onward
 Move like the scythe of Death
 Tanks, by the hundred,
 Boche bullets harmless glide
 Down from their metal hide
 While from their steady hell
 Showers of shot and shell
 Volleyed and thunder'd.

Was there a Boche that stayed
 To see how they were made?
 Not when each Fritz felt
 His hours were number'd
 Theirs not to peek and pry,
 Theirs not to wonder why,
 Theirs but to sprint, or die,
 Straight to Berlin they fly,
 Tins by the hundred.

Tanks to the right of them,
 Tanks to the left of them,
 Tanks back and front surround
 Fritz, Hans and Herman,
 Rolling the wires straight
 Onward they navigate,
 Crushing each creature that
 Smells like a German.

What is that yellow streak
 In the dim distance? Speak!
 Is it a circus band?
 Has nature blunder'd?
 Hush! 'Tis the Kaiser's kin,
 Trying to follow in Vain his retreating chin.
 Small blame you wondered.

Honor the Tank Brigade!
 Honor the fleet that made
 Every last Boche afraid
 Prussia was sunder'd,
 End all this sin with them,
 Help us to win with them,
 On to Berlin with them!
 War Lord, who blunder'd
 New York Times.

AN OVERWORKED WORD

We often hear how efficient the Germans are. They had the jump on the world in military preparedness. For over forty years they had trained for that one thing EFFICIENCY. But they didn't get to Paris. In the language of the gymnasium, they must have been "overtrained." Efficiency is only common sense. Know things and know them well. But not to the point where you are too arrogant to learn from the other fellow. The older you get the more you will find you have to learn. That goes as much for the Kaiser as for some decent person.

BLACK HILL GOLD PRODUCTION SCANT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Pierre, S. D., August 26.—Black Hills folk once proudly boasted that they had one square mile which was worth more than all land in South Dakota, east of the Missouri river. But times have changed and the Black Hills now are yielding only a small fraction of the state's wealth.

The stability of gold is the reason. In the old days this unchangeable value was the Black Hills insurance policy. At present the fixed price is the Black Hills greatest handicap.

The state valuation last year showed a total of $185,000,000 in productive wealth. The valuation of gold mined in South Dakota was placed at $7,000,000. Since then the labor shortage, the inability of the gold mines to pay fancy wages to miners and the money obtainable elsewhere have hit the gold camps.

Copper mine operators were able to pay higher wages when the price of their products was increased. The Black Hills gold is being mined from the low grade ores. A tremendous tonnage of ore must be handled and a correspondingly large amount of labor is needed. In addition to increased salary demands, the price of materials required for producing gold have soared.

"There is more money in potatoes than in gold right now," said a mining man.

FAYETTE COUNTY BELOW PAR IN SAVING CHILDREN

What is the matter with Fayette county? asked a government official a few days ago in Columbus. "I see by investigating the records that in looking out for the health of her cattle, horses and hogs Fayette county stands very near the top, but in looking out for the health of her children she stands very near the bottom." And such is, we are sorry to say, the truth.

Last April the United States Government, realizing that no war could be successfully carried on and no citizenship could keep its morale at home unless public health could be looked after better than ever before, placed the whole situation in the hands of the Department of Labor. They decided to have a campaign in behalf of public health and especially in behalf of the children. They accordingly asked every patriotic community to do all in its power to save its children from disease and death.

Each county in America was given a certain quota to save. At the end of every month reports are made, results are computed and sent back to the County Child Welfare Committee, which is attempting to carry out the work laid down by the government.

The June report has just been received and it reveals the fact that nine counties out of the eighty-eight in Ohio have failed to do their patriotic duty by their children and Fayette County is one of these nine.

Not only has she failed to save her quota but she has also lost more babies than her monthly average for 1916, before the government had asked us to do any special work in this line.

Of the nine counties that have failed in this work, only one besides Fayette is outside the strictly foreign districts of the state and that is Fairfield county. The other seven counties are in factory districts, where the foreign element comprises a large portion of the population. Such towns as Carrollton, Cadiz, East Liverpool and Millersburg belong to this list.

We might easily expect Hamilton county, with Cincinnati's crowded districts, to fail in saving her quota of children, but she did not fail. We might easily expect Cuyahoga county, with Cleveland's large foreign population, to fall below but she did not; she did not only save her quota but went over the top by 40 per cent. She recognized the great importance of this work early in the spring and appropriated $50,000 to carry it on. Toledo, Columbus, Dayton, Hamilton and all the larger cities have succeeded in saving their quotas.

Fayette county is a rich, open, agricultural county with few, if any, foreigners, very few factories and no large cities. It seems that with very little effort we could do what the government expects us to do. The think-

"FOREIGN PROBLEM" DOES NOT EXIST

(Associated Press Correspondence) An American Aerodrome in England, August 23.—English visitors to this aerodrome frequently ask the American soldiers, "But your foreign problem in the United States must be a tremendous problem in these times."

The American soldier's answer to this question is to show the visitor the roll of the Squadron, of which nearly fifty per cent are men of foreign names. "No problem at all," says the American soldier, "they are among the best men we've got here."

FARM NOTES

Buy Apples Early

On account of the scarcity of barrels and other packages for the packing of apples, consumers may help in the conservation of material and packing by buying their apples early and in bulk. It will be necessary, however, to provide good storage.

Apple barrels are quoted at 80 cents apiece and cost more in small numbers. Bushel baskets cost $2.50 a dozen. Both are relatively scarce. This will mean that a smaller number of apples will be packed that more attention will be given to grading, and that apples in packages will bring a higher price than usual. The consumer, therefore, may find it easier in early fall to lay in his winter's supply at a much lower price than later, and will also help in the conservation of labor and packing materials.

Market Slacker Hens Early

On account of the high prices of feed, it will not pay poultry raisers to keep non-productive hens a day longer than necessary according to poultry specialists of the Ohio State University. Slacker hens molt early. They have bright colored legs at this season. Their combs are small, dry, hard, and rough to the touch. The productive hens have combs that are good sized, soft and pliable. The shanks are pale, due to the fact that the pigment is drawn out during egg production. No signs of molting are shown up to September 15.—O. S. U. Bulletin.

Wm. David McKinley Coby, Walter Terry and Herbert Langley Bryant, colored, will be inducted into military service September 1st, going to Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan.

WITH THE YANKS ON THE "QUIET" SECTORS AT FRONT

(Associated Press Correspondence)

WITH The American Army in Lorraine, August 19.—"A quiet sector," said an officer of an American division holding a position so designated "appears to be a part of the front where nothing but scouting, patrolling, shelling and gassing are going on, with a little bombing and flame-throwing to vary the monotony."

In a "quiet" sector the American soldier gets his first experience of war. "Some of the relatively small things in this war look so big to the new man that he is inclined to take them for bigger ones," said an American general, "and it is important for both the new soldier and the young officer to get familiar with the little frightfulnesses the Germans send over so as to get the proper proportion between them and real attacks."

Patrols are large contributors to the war diary of the division in this sector and the American soldier is particularly apt at it. It is no secret for the Germans that he is always at it and that he is venturesome enough to push into their lines and into the villages back of them. The Germans find their wire cut in most unexpected places, even live wire in some cases. A patrol caught at this dangerous work found itself in the range of machine guns and had to roll back under the wire and across No Man's Land with bullets whistling over their heads. Another patrol pushing into a German commanding post and finding it vacant dragged an officer's trunk back over the shell holes to their own trenches.

The patrol is expected to do nothing more than bring in information. The orders are to avoid contact with the enemy, but patrols often meet and occasionally are obliged to fight.

One man of an American patrol, separated from his comrades and captured by the enemy, had gained some interesting information that he determined to take back if he could. His rifle had been taken from him but he managed to conceal a couple of grenades. Slyly removing the cap from one of them as he was being led across No Man's Land he struck it against the other, let it drop then sprinted back to safety.

Indian troops are rendering great service in this work, getting over the ground between the lines without seeming to touch a thing that produces noise, and bringing back most useful information.

Men in observation posts and captive balloons furnish detailed information of everything they see going on back of the enemy's lines. From their reports the war diary registers a daily count of the number of trains and the number of cars in each train seen on the lines of communication. A count is also kept of columns of smoke with the hours and minutes when they are observed.

Working parties are counted and the direction of their movements noted, some times leading to the discovery of new emplacements for heavy artillery. An aerial photograph showed recently where a battery found in this way had been completely destroyed by our fire.

The men out scouting or on patrol, in the listening posts or observation balloons quickly sharpen their faculties of observation, get a better grasp of the significance of little things and their relation to big ones. Their sense of proportion develops and they are no longer to be misled as to the scope of the enemy's harassing operations.

AERIAL MAIL FROM PARIS TO LONDON

Paris, August 17.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—Cables from America describing the institution of an aerial mail service between New York, Philadelphia and Washington have led to the revelation that regular service has been in force between Paris and London for a year and a half. This service has been conducted by the military authorities and has been used only for official messages and documents.

days ago when he met with a fatal accident in making a landing. He had made over a hundred trips between the two capitals, each voyage taking about three hours, at an average rate of 75 miles an hour. The distance covered between Paris and London was about 230 miles, the distance between New York and Washington.

The annual council of the churches of Christ in Christian Union will convene at Circleville, Ohio, August 28, continuing four days followed by the annual camp meeting running over two Sundays or September 9th. A welcome to all.

BRITISH GIRLS MARRY YANKEES

(Associated Press Correspondence)
With the American Army in England, August 18.—When the American army returns to the United States there will go with it or at about that time, many women who, though British born, have become American citizens. They have married American soldiers and the indications are that their example will be followed by many others.

Marriage of men while in the service is not regarded with favor either by the war department or by officers at headquarters in England, but consent to a wedding has been given in more than one camp.

So far the marriages have been between the English girls and the enlisted men, and in some cases the bride has worn the uniform of one of the many women's auxiliary corps of the British army. In such cases the girl has continued in the service of her country and the goodbyes when orders have come for moving have included the expression of the hope that they may "see each other in France."

Such a course is sure to cost more money for repairs later and may cost you more than money. If your machine is not thoroughly all right let us make it so. That is the only safe and sane way.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL NATIONAL DEFENSE

They who save also serve! When the soldier comes home he will say: "I served my country in the trenches." Will you be able to say: "I also served by saving food."

FOOD QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Sugar Prices.
How do sugar prices here compare with those in other countries? Net wholesale prices of refined sugar per pound in chief cities of Allied countries since sugar control was established in the United States by the Food Administration:
October 1, 1917—
New York, $0.0818; Montreal, $0.0867; London, $0.0998; Paris, $0.1224; Rome, $0.263.
May 1, 1918—
New York, $0.073; Montreal, $0.0807; London, $0.1259; Paris, $0.1228; Rome, $0.263.

What is the average retail price of sugar in the United States?
From 8 1/2 to 10 cents a pound, varying slightly in different localities. During the Civil War sugar sold at retail for 35 cents a pound, when there was no real shortage. Speculation then was rampant; now it has been checked by Food Administration regulation. How have prices been regulated?
By voluntary agreement with producers and refiners, with regard to the price of the raw sugar and refiners' margins, and by establishing maximum margins for wholesale and retailers.

Would our prices be higher if there were no control of sugar?
The price would, in the face of the world shortage, have mounted rapidly, as it has in countries where no control exists. As the American people consume upwards of 8,000,000,000 pounds annually, each cent per pound increase would cost the people more than $80,000,000 a year.

How can I know whether my grocer is charging excessive prices for sugar?
Consult the list of "fair prices" published in the newspapers or write directly to the State Food Administrator or his representative in your vicinity.

What penalty is there for the small retail grocer who is found guilty of charging excessive prices?
Wholesalers, all of whom operate under Federal licenses issued by the Food Administration, may cut off his supplies.

Cost of Living Among Neutrals.

Those who have exhausted every other excuse for not helping to win the war and are blaming America's participation in the fight on Scientific Brutality with the high cost of living might find food for thought in the official reports from Norway, Sweden and Denmark, which have endeavored to maintain a nominal neutrality. In Norway the cost of living has increased 137 per cent; in Sweden 92 per cent, and in Denmark 60 per cent since the outbreak of the war. American figures are not higher than either of these, and America's entrance into the war had very little appreciable effect on the cost of living in the nation.

COULDN'T PAY INCOME TAX

Washington, August 28.—(Associated Press)—Difficulties of soldiers who formerly were successful business men, in paying last year's income tax on this year's pay are illustrated by a story brought to Washington by an officer serving at one of the southern cantonments.

Last February, the officer said, he explained to the men of his command that all married men would have to pay a tax on all their last year's earnings over $2,000 while all unmarried men would have to pay on all income over $1,000.

Coming to him later one of the men, a private, said:

"I guess I won't be able to pay that income tax. I haven't any money."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the officer, "you have until June to pay it and you can save it out of your pay by that time."

"I am afraid I couldn't," responded the private. "I made $35,000 last year and I blew it all in when I was called into the army."

TWO YEAR OLD CHILD SCALDED

Glenn Arthur, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roby Blackburn, of Sunnyside, was seriously scalded Tuesday evening about seven o'clock by pulling a bucket of boiling water from a gas range the water pouring over the child's face and body, inflicting burns of a serious nature.

SEES STORMY DAYS AFTER WORLD WAR

LIVERPOOL, August 20.—"Stormy days" after the war were predicted recently by Sir Alfred Booth, presiding at the annual meeting of the Cunard Line. The principal dangers he foresaw were:

Difficulty of deflating currency and credit without destroying confidence. The tendency to maintain government control which he said would produce a deadening effect on enterprise.

International attempt to divide up the raw materials of the world among competing industries, making politics. Instead of peace the determining factor of distribution. "The international jealousies engendered by such a system," said Sir Alfred, "would be sufficient to kill any League of Nations where we might have to form."

Labor unrest due to false hopes of a new heaven and a new earth.

AFTER SICKNESS

Mrs. Page Tells How Vinol Restored Her Strength and Stopped a Cough
Brooklyn, Conn.—"Pneumonia left me weak, rundown and with a cough for which I doctored for six months without getting better. A friend from Virginia asked me to try Vinol. It healed my cough, gave me a good appetite, I sleep well and feel well and strong." Mrs. Thomas Page.

Vinol owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics known. Blackmer & Tanquary and druggists everywhere. Advt.
